BACKGROUND

Young people represent one of the most powerful forces for positive change in the world. Across continents, youth are leading initiatives in education, innovation, entrepreneurship, climate action, technology, social justice, peacebuilding, and community development.

As the world faces increasing challenges such as climate change, inequality, unemployment, social division, and rapid technological transformation, meaningful youth participation in decision-making and leadership has become more important than ever.

The Global Youth Leaders Conference & Youth Awards 2026 aims to provide an international platform where young leaders, changemakers, innovators, social entrepreneurs, students, educators, and youth organizations can connect, learn, collaborate, and inspire one another.
